Choquequirao Trek Machu Picchu 8 days / 7 nights

The circuit Choquequiraw to Machu Picchu is done through a remote Inca trail that was used frequently in the time of the Incas to reach the Inca citadel of Machu Picchu, with the villages of Chinchaysuyo the northwestern part of the empire of Tawantinsuyo and continue the path towards antisuyo, exclusively Citadel Choquequiraw which becomes a checkpoint that in the course of time was growing and getting bigger, definitely a place of greater importance in political and administrative sense, probably less religious category against Machu Picchu. But this detail does not detract from the dazzling charm that has this citadel on a rugged topography, located in the ecological level of the jungle, sub tropical climate.
